

PIANO SALESMAN BROKE THE HARMONY OF A HOME

Mr. Middleton S. Borland, Lawyer,
Gets a Divorce—Architect's
Wife Receives a Decree.

Two divorces were granted by the Supreme Court Justice J. J. McQuinn, L. J. prothonotary, to persons well known to Bucks County.

Middleton S. Borland, a lawyer, practicing in New York and living in Montgomery, got an absolute divorce from Elizabeth S. Borland, a prominent lawyer, who was his wife, in the city. The husband, Middleton S. Borland, is an architect. Mrs. Borland is a pianist. The most important evidence related to a sudden visit to a Newport hotel. The divorce was granted.

Justice J. J. McQuinn gave a divorce to Mrs. Elizabeth S. Borland, sister of Mrs. J. J. Borland, a prominent lawyer, who was his wife, in the city. The husband, Middleton S. Borland, is an architect. Mrs. Borland is a pianist. The most important evidence related to a sudden visit to a Newport hotel. The divorce was granted.

To Keep Your Skin Free From Hairs

(Beauty Topics)

If you are willing to spend a few minutes time in your room using a delicate cream, you can easily banish any ugly, hairy growth without discomfort or injury. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is then spread over the hairy surface and after about 5 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed. You will not be disappointed with this treatment, providing you get real delatone.—Adv.

HOME GYMNASIUM FOR WOMEN

To Preserve Health, Strength and Figure

BY PAULINE FURLONG

A New Series of Illustrated Lessons, Showing How Every Woman May Have an Inexpensively Equipped Gymnasium in Her Own Home.

NO. 16—BASKET BALL.

Basket ball is another healthful game, which is played in most schools, gymnasiums and colleges. It requires a large field and many players. The game is a strenuous one and requires a great deal of roughness and personal contact. In today's illustration I am showing you some idea of how you may get the benefits of basket ball in your own home. I have used an ordinary waste paper basket and hung it by a tape on a door and play the game all alone.

Often in the gymnasium, when no one was around who cared to play some game with me, I used to take the basket ball and practice throwing it in the basket, just as a general pastime, and also to improve my play, when I was in a regular game. I therefore discovered, quite by accident, a very beneficial exercise. I know from the little aches in my shoulders and back of my neck that these muscles had been brought into play, and knowing this I often played quite alone, and when I saw the others taking it up I decided I had discovered a brand new game.

The ball may be thrown in the basket from different positions, and first with one hand and then with both. You may also throw it from each hip and then again while stooping and squatting. All this improves your skill in placing the ball in the basket and exercises many muscles. It likewise makes the eye accurate. Hang the basket high, thus correcting the sagging chin muscles as you look toward it.

GAME EXERCISES HELP YOU KEEP IN CONDITION.

Many of my readers have written me and asked if there was danger of knotty muscles forming from doing the game exercises. As two-thirds of the weight of our bodies is made up of muscles and bones, they can only be kept in health and condition by actually performing the work which nature intended and put them there for. Exercise not only improves the whole system but increases the elasticity of the bones and muscles and the heart, brain, nerves, blood, lungs and other organs through circulation and digestion.

It is of the greatest importance to health and comfort to possess large, healthy muscles into which the blood may be drained at times to relieve the blood-pressure from the brain and other parts, and the only way to obtain this larger muscle area is by practicing the daily exercises which require perseverance and continuity of effort rather than a great strain on the nervous system, such as one naturally forces in competitive games. Personally I do not advocate games of any kind, as exercises, only for the moment you try to excel and out-play your opponent you are using your brain too much and spoiling all of the good effects which you might have derived from the physical activity alone.

To-morrow I will show you the new game, basketball, and explain all of the good effects which may be played in a small space and without the expense of the regulation lawn tennis.

Letters From Evening World Readers Following Miss Furlong's Lessons.

B. C. writes: "I am reading your interesting articles and find them very beneficial and helpful. Please tell me what I should weigh and measure. I am 5 feet 6 inches, and weigh 125 pounds."

You should weigh at least 145 pounds. Neck 13. Chest 32. Waist 27. Hips 34. Thighs 24. Calf 14. Upper arm 11. Forearm 9.

M. E. W. writes: "I am following your exercises printed every day, but have not found success about reducing the hips. Please let me know if it was ever printed."

The rolling exercises for reducing the hips have been illustrated twice. They appeared the second time on Aug. 26.

HEALTH asks: "Please mention some vegetables that I can eat. I want to keep thin." All green vegetables and no starchy ones. String beans, cabbage, onions, lettuce, spinach, kale, tomatoes, cucumbers, beets, artichokes, eggplant, carrots, Brussels sprouts, asparagus, endive, chlopsy, green peppers, celery and cauliflower make a large variety.

MABEL K. (Cleveland) writes: "Please tell me a good soap for oily scalp. I am a brunette." Tar soap is the best for oily skin and scalp. It contains much glycerine, which is drying.

STELLA writes: "I want to write and tell you how much benefit I have derived from your course. I have worked very hard and when I started it weighed nearly thirty pounds more than I do now. I am down to normal and feel simply great. Can you suggest what will grow short, thick hair long?"

I thank you for your kind letter. It is very encouraging. Nothing will make the hair longer than nature intended. If it is thick and healthy you should be satisfied.

MRS. E. K. L. (Philadelphia) writes: "Please tell me how I can get all of the back copies of your valuable articles as I want to reduce." If you are desirous of reducing you do not need all of the back numbers. The ones you require appeared from July 26 to Aug. 7. We are all out of the numbers before July 5. But many of them were printed in the last exercises. Send 1 cent for each back copy you desire and please mention dates. Enclose 5 cents for postage.

R. W. J. writes: "I have read nearly all of your articles on physical culture and have found them very practical and interesting, but I have not found anything which would help me. I am a young man, twenty years of age, 5 feet 11 inches tall, and weigh but 120 pounds, which you will agree is not near enough. I want to increase my weight about 30 pounds and want you to tell me how. I can find nothing in the articles about gaining weight. Please tell me what should weigh and measure."

As you are very young you will surely broaden out, especially as you go in for rowing, football and other beneficial games. The exercises for developing, containing chest raising and others, also diet for gaining weight, appeared July 19 to 24, included. Lend me 10 cents and repeat your question and I will send them to you postpaid. A man your height should weigh about 174 to 185 pounds when fully developed. Neck, 16. Waist, 24. Chest, 34. Thighs, 24. Calf, 14. Forearm, 11. Thigh, 24. Calf, 17.

EDITH (Dayton) asks: "How often should I take the neck exercises, forward, sideward, backward?" These are the best exercises to build up the flabby neck and double chin. Take them slowly and at least twenty-five times each day.

FACES LIFE TERM FOR THEFT.

Prisoner Liable Under the Habitual Criminal Act.

Arrested last night on a charge of burglary, Frank Baker, alias Brown, admitted at Police Headquarters today that he had served twenty of the last twenty-five years in prison as a burglar and was released only last Monday after a three-year term in Dannemora. He was arrested eight times and is eligible for release on parole. He is charged with being a habitual criminal with the possibility of a life sentence.

Baker was arrested after Mrs. Theodore Bigel of No. 122 Ridge Street saw him in the hallway at that address wearing a suit much like her husband's. She then discovered her apartment had been burglarized and the suit taken, and she called Patrolman Kenny, who arrested Baker a block away. He said he had been drinking and took to stealing naturally.

Statue of Dr. Dix Arrives. A statue of the late Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, ordered by his parishioners, was delivered yesterday at Trinity Church. It will be set up within the edifice and unveiled with ceremonies as soon as arrangements can be made.

MISSING ATTORNEY WRITES TO WIFE THAT HE WON'T COME BACK

And Mrs. Sandford Says She'll Make No Effort to Get Him Back.

Edith M. Sandford, formerly assistant chief counsel of the Atchafalaya, Topoka and Santa Fe Railroad, who has been missing from his home at No. 104 Midland Avenue, East Orange, N. J., since last Friday, has been heard from through a letter received by his wife dated in Pittsburgh, Pa. Wednesday.

The police of East Orange and other nearby towns and cities and 1,000 boy scouts have been searching for the missing lawyer, his wife having said that he carried a razor with him when he disappeared and that she feared he might have done himself injury.

His wife is wealthy. She owns houses and other property in East Orange. Sandford retired from law practice about ten years ago. There had been a quarrel over the collection of rents, to which he refers in his letter. He adds:

"I will not return unless compelled to do so by warrant. I have a position now with an automobile concern and expect to go on the road shortly. It did not cost me a cent to get here. I traveled for three days in an automobile on the Lincoln Highway, having been picked up by a party of tourists. I will soon leave Pittsburgh. You will not hear from me again."

Mrs. Sandford said today that she did not think she would make any effort to have him return.

REV. DR. JOWETT MAY GO TO A LONDON CHURCH

City Temple Wants Pastor of Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church—Now on the Ocean.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—It was reported in religious circles here today that a large majority of the congregation of the City Temple in favor of extending a call to the Rev. Dr. H. J. Jowett, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City.

Although it has been understood by his friends that Dr. Jowett would return to England some day, it is said he feels his work in New York is far from finished. Consequently, it is felt he will not leave New York at present.

When Dr. Jowett left his congregation at Carve Lane, Birmingham, to go to New York the late Rev. Dr. C. Silvester Horne, a long time friend of Dr. Jowett, remarked that in "going from Birmingham to London by way of Fifth Avenue," Dr. Jowett was taking an unnecessarily long route.

Dr. Jowett is now returning to New York after a visit to England.

HIS WHISKERS A NUISANCE.

Rochester Sanitary Authorities Are Asked to Operate on a Visitor.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 17.—Delegates to the annual convention of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees have sought the aid of the sanitary authorities of Rochester in removing the beard from the face of M. J. O'Brien of Chicago, who has the distinction of being the only whiskered delegate in the convention.

Delegate C. W. Mills of Chicago introduced the following resolution yesterday: "Resolved, That the sanitary authorities of the City of Rochester be appealed to for removing the beard from the face of Delegate O'Brien, the accumulation of hairy matter that naturally belongs to the goat family."

The resolution was introduced "on behalf of the citizens of Rochester." It was referred to the committee on law.

ROW IN A. & N. UNION.

Delegates Bolt When C. R. Brown of Brooklyn Is Discharged.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 17.—Seven Brooklyn delegates bolted the session of the annual convention of the Army and Navy Union when Charles R. Brown, Brooklyn, Past Commander of Gen. George A. Custer Garrison No. 2 of Brooklyn, was discharged after he had been found guilty on sixteen out of seventeen counts of conduct unbecoming an officer and acts prejudicial to military discipline. Two of the delegates later returned.

When Queen Elizabeth Went to the Theatre

In the early days of the playhouse—in Elizabeth's days—they stood up or sat on hard stools. If you were somebody you got a stool. Elizabeth got a cushion on hers.

Then they raised a curtain, hung a sign on a side wall asserting that this was a Donjon Keep, or a Ruined Mill, and everybody did their best to believe it.

You've been hearing a good deal lately about Triangle Plays.

Elizabeth's theatre and the magic marvels of these Griffith-Ince-Sennett productions are the two extremes of dramatic art.

You'll see these Triangle Plays for the first time at the Knickerbocker Theatre, Thursday Evening, September 23d.

Griffith, Ince and Sennett don't hand out little signs on little walls. They show you miles upon miles of wonderful country; peoples you have read about only in books. Their geography is only limited by their imaginations and the resources of this planet. They don't deal in crude paint and canvas. They deal in big, natural effects; mountains, rivers, plains and seas.

They don't hold you to one set of emotions, either, but rush you swiftly through the gamut of them all. They give you comedy, tragedy, laughter, tears, sympathetic smiles and tense drama all in rapid succession and—

All in the very best theatric environment, for that is a vital part of the Triangle plan—Comfort, Quality, Achievement—the very best the best men can do. You'll pay regular theatre prices and you'll get value received.

All you have to do is to go through the usual formality at the box office of the

Knickerbocker Theatre
